Take a risk and follow your dreams.

Stepping out in faith to pursue one's passion takes tremendous courage.

Santa Cruz: Life frequently doesn't go our way. Maybe your parents have been overprotective or have planned your life. Perhaps you've been betrayed or abandoned by loved ones and now you have a hard time trusting and giving your heart. Maybe you've left your home and everything you know in order to use your talents and chase your dreams.

In her first historical romance, titled Watercolor Dreams (HopeSprings Books/ October 7, 2014/ ISBN 978-1938708435/ $14.99), Sherry Kyle introduces readers to two characters in the artist community of 1910 who are forced to confront their inability to accept God's perfect plan for their lives.

While reading Watercolor Dreams, the reader will learn that when you aren't afraid to take a risk and follow your passions, God will use your gifts to His glory in surprising and unexpected ways.

Watercolor Dreams was inspired by Psalm 37:4, "Delight yourself in the Lord; and He will give you the desires of your heart." Our timing is different than God's timing, but He will bless us when we seek Him. The answer may be different than what we hoped or imagined—but always better. Every one of us has had heartache and loss in our lives, but when we are "kind and compassionate to one another, forgiving each other, just as in Christ God forgave you," (Ephesians 4:32) then our hearts will be ready and open to love again.

Sherry Kyle is the author of two contemporary novels, Delivered with Love and The Heart Stone. Kyle also writes books for 8-12 year old girls, including the award-winning title The Christian Girl's Guide to Style, as well as The Girl's Guide to Your Dream Room. Kyle has a degree in Communications and a minor in Bible from Biola University, and lives in Central California with her husband and four children.
